Radiation Safe Telephone Handset for iPhone 4 / iPad

Enjoy the nostalgic and comfortable feeling of a classic phone with the Radiation Safe Telephone Handset from CTA Digital for iPhone and iPad. The slim and stylish telephone handset features a spring retractable cord that connects to any 3.5mm jack. This radiation free handset is also a safe alternative to holding your cellular device near your head, if you're concerned with limiting how much radio frequency energy you are exposed to. Using the handset with your iPad for Skype, video chat and internet phone calls is perfect when you want the convenience of being able to pick up the phone and enjoy the privacy of a call in your ear. No uncomfortable headsets needed. You can answer and also easily hang up the phone by simply pressing the built-in answer/end button and setting the phone down. So, whether you are looking for an easier, more comfortable way to make calls or miss the feeling of an old phone, you will find an answer with CTA Digital's Radiation Safe Telephone Handset for iPhone and iPad.
